SUNDAY WAS DAY OF ACCIDENTS

Traction Car Hits Auto West of City—Hand of Connersville Boy is Amputated

SERIES NEAR ARLINGTON

James Sharer of Carthage Unable to Get Machine Off Track but Occupants Escape

Sunday was a day of accidents in Rush county, automobiles, traction cars and trains as usual playing the main parts. While no one was killed, several had close escapes and one boy lost his left hand under the wheels of a C. I. & W. train.

One of the most thrilling of the entire day occurred yesterday afternoon at the Hackleman stop on the I. & C. traction line, one mile west of the city, when west-bound car leaving here at 5:42 o'clock hit the automobile owned by James Sharer of Carthage. Mr. and Mrs. Sharer escaped injury but the runabout in which they were riding was demolished.

Mr. Sharer, who was driving, drove the car directly on the tracks where he killed the engine. Both occupants of the machine saw the car approaching and got out. Mr. Sharer attempted to move his machine off the track by hand, but had the brakes set and was unable to do so. He barely got away from the machine when the car struck. The rear part of the auto was badly damaged.

Hand Amputated

Roy Scanlon, 15, of Connersville, who with a party of boys were attempting to "beat" their way from this city to Connersville on a C. I. & W. freight train, walked off between two cars of the moving train and sustained such a badly mangled left hand that it was amputated at the wrist. The accident occurred Sunday morning a three o'clock near the local freight depot.

The boys, it is understood, have made a practice of riding freight trains to this city every Saturday night and were on their way home when the accident occurred. The crowd of boys was on top of the cars and Scanlon explained the accident by stating it was so dark he did not see the end of the car and walked off, falling on the tracks. The hand was badly lacerated and it was necessary to amputate. The boy was taken to his home Sunday afternoon.

Many Bones Broken

A series of accidents befell Arlington people yesterday, Dr. A. G. Schaak being called on to reduce three fractured bones. Jesse Gallimore, living near Arlington, sustained a broken left arm, while working with his hogs. His arm was caught in the doorway of a hog house by an onrushing pig and fractured. The hog hit the arm with great force.

The second accident of the Arlington neighborhood occurred when Vida Seward, 10 years old, stumbled and fell breaking both bones in her left arm. The little girl was coming out of the yard to meet her aunt, Mrs. Stella Davis, who had been away for a few days when she fell.

Mrs. Sam Ball of Arlington was the third victim of the day. Mrs. Ball was on her way to attend the Adventist meeting in Indianapolis when she fell fracuring the bone in her right wrist.

Suffers Broken Leg

Dr. Joel D. Whitaker of Indianapolis sustained a broken leg Sunday afternoon in an automobile accident near Andersonville. He was riding with James Allison, one of the owners of the Prest-O-Lite company

PLEDGES WIPE OUT DEBT

$2,400 is Raised at St. Paul's Methodist Church

Pledges amounting to $2,400, which wipes out the church debt, were made yesterday at the St. Paul's Methodist church. The debt of the church was lifted at the home coming and a large crowd responded. $500 of this amount is to be applied to the cost of the new furnace installed at the church and the balance goes towards the debt on the church parsonage. The Rev. W. R. Halstead of Terre Haute preached at both services yesterday and helped in obtaining the pledges.

SPURIOUS COINS ARE PASSED HERE

Stranger Gets Rid of Two Counterfeit $10 Gold Pieces at Local Grocery Stores-

MADE SMALL PURCHASES

Two spurious $10 gold pieces were put in circulation here Saturday night, two grocerymen being the victims. The coins were passed at both places by the same man and while the police have a good description they have been unable to get any trace of him.

The coins were passed at the stores of Elmer Miller, corner of Third and Buena Vista avenue, and William Voyle, in West Second street. At both places the man represented himself to be a farm hand and purchased a pound of coffee and some tobacco. The coffee was found in Washington street Sunday morning.

At the time the coins appeared to be genuine but yesterday morning the discovery was made. The glitter was all gone and it was seen that they were the rankest kind of counterfeit. The coins bore the date of 1895. The government officials in Indianapolis were notified this morning by Chief Yakey.

SWEEZEY ENTERED PLEA OF GUILTY

Horse Thief Sentenced to One to Fourteen Years at Jeffersonville by Judge Sparks

TOTTLEBIN IS RELEASED

William Sweezey, the Greensburg youth, who took the horse and buggy belonging to Leonidas Keisling of Richland township from the Rush county fair grounds, fair week, entered a plea of guilty this morning before Judge Sparks to a charge of grand larceny. Sweezey was sentenced to the state reformatory at Jeffersonville to serve not less than one year and not more than fourteen years. In addition to this he was fined $50 and disfranchised for a period of one year.

Sweezey, it will be recalled, sold the outfit at Batesville and Newpoint and it was through the sale that he was traced.

William Tottlebin of Connersville held in jail here in connection with the theft of the Clarence Carney automobile last week, was released this morning when the charge against him was dismissed on motion of the prosecution attorney. A lack of evidence was given as the cause.

James Tweedy, a former teacher in the Manilla and Falmouth schools has purchased a farm near Fairmount and is now living there.

NEW COURT TERM GETS GOOD START

Opening Marked by Large Attendance of Attorneys—Many Cases are Dismissed

JURY TRIAL WEDNESDAY

Case Against Charles Perkins, Charged With "Bootlegging" Will Start Then

The September term of the Rush circuit court, opening today, had an auspicious start and a large attendance of attorneys marked the first day of court in over two months. An exceptionally large crowd of attorneys attended the opening session, a total of eighteen being present. The usual routine was followed this morning, Judge Sparks calling the docket.

No cases were set for trial and the actual business of trying cases will not start until Wednesday. At this time the jury will report and the case against Charles Perkins, charged with "bootlegging" will be tried. Perkins was indicted jointly with Joe Lakin. Lakin asked for a separate trial and as a result the state elected to try the case against Perkins first. The cases were set for Tuesday but one of the jurors was called from the city and the case pushed up one day.

On Friday the case against James Kratzer, charged with operating a place for gaming, will be tried. In this as in the other, separate trials were asked by the defendants, who in this case are James Kratzer, John Wolter und Walter E. Smith.

The usual number of cases were dismissed this morning including a number of divorce suits that were filed during vacation. The case of Martha Easley against Henry Easley was dismissed at the plaintiff's costs. Another divorce suit to go by the boards was that of Ordell Conde against Scott Conde. This was dismissed at the plaintiff's costs.

Still another divorce suit to be disposed of by the dismissal route was that of Charles Lechner against Evaline Lechner. This went the same way as the others. In the divorce suit of Jennie Ryon against James Ryon, the restraining order was dissolved by agreement except that pertaining to the $1,000 worth of Indianapolis Street railways stock he owns. It was also agreed that he would give her the sum of $5 a week for support money pending the trial of the case.

Other cases dismissed were those of Robert S. McCray against Darst Beckner, et al., to set aside a deed; Vincent Early against Clyde Early on notes demanding $700; R. F. Scudder against Chase G. Cross, on note demanding $100.

By agreement John H. Kiplinger was appointed to act as special judge in the case of Ollie F. Thompson against Eddie Thompson in which she seeks to have Mr. Thompson removed as her guardian. Judge Sparks was at one time interested in the case and would not act as judge.

MILROY MAN IS FOUND BY SON

William Smith, Who Disappeared Years Ago, Recognized at Mayo Hospital by His Child

NOW LIVES IN MISSOURI

Is Remembered by Many People Here—Was Son of the Late Jerry Smith of That Place

The story of how a father and son were reunited after years of separation has drifted back to Milroy. The story is of particular interest to Milroy, although the parties are known by many people over the county.

Many years ago William Smith, a son of the late Jerry Smith, disappeared from Milroy, deserting his family. Nothing was heard from him and no one was ever found who had ever seen him. No cause was given at the time for his disappearance and at the time it was thought perhaps he had met with foul play. Mr. Smith was long since given up as dead.

He had a son named Anson Smith. This son went through college and by hard work became a physician. As a physician he soon gained considerable reputation and was taken into the Mayo sanitorium in Minnesota.

Some weeks ago Dr. Smith operated or assisted in an operation upon an elderly man from the state of Missouri. The man bore the name Smith and for some unknown reason took a liking to the doctor with the name Smith. The two struck up an acquaintance and then began the comparisons of family records. This did not go far until the Smith from Missouri confessed to being the father of Dr. Smith.

Smith went from here direct to Missouri and from all reports did good. In the meagre details drifting back to Milroy no reason has been given for his leaving home. His family drifted away from this county, and the people soon lost track of them. It is not known what became of his wife.

MANY SUFFER BROKEN LIMBS

(By United Press.)

Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 4.—At 1:35 p. m. this afternoon the south section of the $3 reserve seats for the Welsh-White fight collapsed with terrific force, injuring 25 people, five or six seriously. Included in the injured are several women.

Ambulances parked outside the arena were put into instant use and the victims were rushed to hospitals and doctor's offices. The section was 20 rows deep and about 20 feet wide. Probably 200 people went down with the crash. Police and firemen aided in the rescue work. The crowd in other parts of the arena remained comparatively quiet and the band played. The sale of $3 seats was stopped. The most seriously injured are suffering from broken limbs.

WOMAN'S RECOVERY IS NOW ASSURED

Mrs. Rhoda Wells, Accident Victim, Able to Sit up Few Hours And is Rational

WAS INJURED ONE WEEK AGO

Mrs. Rhoda Wells, injured one week ago today when a C. I. & W. train hit the wagon in which she, her husband and boy were riding, is so greatly improved that there can be little doubt as to her final recovery. Mrs. Wells has been able to sit up for several hours at a time and has talked of the accident. She believes her husband is in an Indianapolis hospital.

The little Lewis Wells, is also getting along as well as could be expected although it may be necessary to amputate two more of his toes and possibly the entire left foot. Two of the toes on his foot were taken off following the accident and now the foot is not doing as well as the doctors would like and there is danger that more of the toes will be taken off.

URGES SPIRIT OF FRANKNESS

Secretary Lansing Tells Commission to Enter Discussion of Mexican Problem Openly

AFTER PERMANENT SOLUTION

(By United Press.)

New York, Sept. 4.—A permanent not merely a temporary solution of the problem is sought by this government through the Mexican and American commission to discuss the points in controversy between the two countries, Secretary of State Lansing told the commissioners here today. He addressed the Mexican and American representatives at luncheon.

He said: "To reach such a settlement that will be lasting and sure it will be necessary to go to the root of the matter and consider the international rights and duties of the individual to the state and the rights of the state to he individuals."

Lansing urged that the commission of both countries enter the meeting in a spirit of frankness.

MACHINE WAS ON FIRE.

A short circuit on the wiring leading to the electric horn came near setting fire to the auto owned by Hillery Haydon Sunday afternoon. The insulation on the wires was burned off and considerable smoke resulted. The machine was stopped in Main street and the occupants got out. The fire department was called, but the fire was put out with chemicals.

UNCLE SAM GETS LINCOLN FARM

Log Cabin and Land in Kentucky That Was His Birthplace is Presented to Government

ADDRESS BY GOVERNOR FOLK

Declares he Founded an Americanism That is Ideal and not Merely Political

ACCEPTS DEED

(By United Press.)

Hodgenville, Ky., Sept. 4.—President Wilson received the deed to the property together with the endowment fund of $100.000 for its maintainance from the Lincoln Farm Association this afternoon. Standing before the cabin the president spoke of Lincoln as embodying the real spirit of democracy.

Hodgensville, Ky., Sept. 4.—President Lincoln's home farm and the log cabin that he was born in were formally presented to Uncle Sam by the Lincoln Farm Association, an organization which rescued the place from obscurity and neg- the place from obscurity and neglect, here today. Most of the contributions for the purchase came from the common people Lincoln loved so well.

Former Governor Joseph W. Folk of Missouri, President of the association, in presenting the farm and cabin to the government, emphasized the need for Americanism in the everyday life of the individual American, in the government and particularly in the foreign relations of the United States. Mr. Folk said in part:

"The spirit of Lincoln is more alive today than when he lived in the flesh. Hisi deals live in millions of American freemen.

"He founded an Americanism that is not a matter of creed or national descent, but an ideal of the soul and of the mind; an Americanism that is not merely a union of political entities, but of a common aspiration and a common destiny.

"Lincoln's Americanism was so virile that there need be no nation so strong we should fear it, or so powerful we should cower at its feet; an Americanism so just that the Golden Rule may be the supreme law guiding us in our diplomatic relations with other nations; an Americanism ready to defend against the aggression of all nations, but intentionally offending none in upholding the priciples of the rights of man throughout the world; an Americanism that gives hope to those who would preserve the sacred fire of brotherhood now in danger of being extinguished in the sanguinary floods across the sea; an Americanism based upon service for the common good and equality of opportunity for all."

A large crowd was present for the presentation celebration.

THE LORD'S PRAYER.

Miss Mamie Warren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Warren of this city, who is a nurse at St. Vincent's hospital in Indianapolis, encountered a patient who used as a bookmark the original copy of an unusual poem, the last of each line of which is the Lord's Prayer. The composition was found on the battlefield at Charleston, S. C. It was written by a wounded soldier who never lived to get home. Miss Warren has sent a copy of the poem here. It follows:

Thou to the mercy seat our souls doth gather
To do our duty unto thee—Our Father,
To whom all praise, all honor should be given.
For thou are the great God—Who art in heaven.
Thou by thy wisdom rul'st the world's fame;
Forever, therefore—Hallowed be Thy name.
Let never more delay divide us from Thy glorious face but let—Thy kingdom come.
Let Thy commands opposed by none be.
But Thy good pleasure and—Thy will be done.
And let our promptness to obey be even
The very same—In earth as it 'tis in heaven.
Then for our souls, Oh! Lord we also pray.
Thou would be pleased to—Give us this day
The food of life wherewith our souls are fed,
Sufficient rainment and—Our daily bread.
With every needful thing do thou relieveus
An dfor mercy pity--And forgive us.
All our misdeeds for whom thou didst please
To make an offering for—Our trespasses,
And for as much, Oh! Lord, as we believe
That thou will pardon us—As we forgive
Let thy love teach, wherewith thou doest acquaint us
To pardon all—Thou who trespass against us
And though sometimes thou findst we have forgot
This love for thee, yet help—And lead us not
Through soul and body's want to desperation.
Nor let earth's gain drive us—into temptation
Let not the soul of any true believer
Fall in the time of trial—But deliver
Yea, save them form the malice of the devil
And both in life and death keep—Us from evil.
Thus we Lord, for thought of thee, from whom
This may be had—For thine is the kingdom.
This world is of thy work its wonderous story,
To thee belongs—the power and the glory.

TRAVELERS ARE STRIPPED NAKED

Everyone Leaving Germany Must Undergo Careful Scrutiny of the Authorities

TEST KNOWS NO FRIENDS

Closest Examination of Personal Effects Made to Prevent Plans Being Carried Away

By CARL W. ACKERMAN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Copenhagen, August 10—(By Mail—Everyone who leaves Germany today via Warnemuende for Denmark is stripped to the skin. Ears, nose, teeth and toes are examined to see that no information or plans for the enemy are being carried out.

Reichstag members, wives of officials, correspondents and laborers are treated the same.

An American crossing the border yesterday remarked that before long it would be necessary for the inspection station to be built into the Baltic sea so that the travelers could undress on the German border, walk into the water and swim to a waiting station near the ferry and wait for the clothes and baggage to be examined and forwarded by canoe.

When travelers leave the train they enter a small wooden shed, resembling in many respects a temporary bath house at an American beach. Here the passports are taken away and shoved into an enclosed room where they are examined. The holders are given numbers.

When the passport of a traveler is finished he is called to another room where he is questioned about the objects of his journey. From here the wayfarer goes to a large room when the baggage is examined while detectives stand in front and in back to see that nothing is slipped by.

Every scrap of paper or card board is taken away, even wrappings and paper lining to boxes. Cotton is removed from medicine bottles. Cigars are examined, some are cut open, chocolate in sealed packages is opened, the wrapping destroyed and half the chocolate broken up into bits to see that nothing is hidden.

Shoes with a new half sole are opened. The searcher feels everything, examines canes to see whether they are hollow, opens umbrellas, holds every collar up to the light to see that nothing is written on the lining.

"After the baggage is examined," said an American woman who crossed the border yesterday. "the men and women are taken into separate compartments, about the size of a large individual bath house and there every bit of clothing is removed. Women are examined by women, men by men.

"The searcher went through every piece of my clothes, examined the border of my underwear and held almost every inch of my clothes up to the light. Even the roses I wore were examined petal by petal, my wrist watch was opened back and front, so also my shoes, umbrella and hat.

"I had to take down my hair and my scalp was examined thoroughly—I suppose to see that I didn't have a map of Metz concealed thereon. Then my ears, teeth, hands, toes and back were examined, but fortunately I was not a suspicious woman because I was not washed in alcohol to see if there were any concealed maps drawn on my skin. The alcohol and a basin of water with towels were there and on a shelf I noticed a bottle of aromatic spirits of ammonia and drinking water for those who might faint under examination, but in every way the women were courteous and gentle."

After that was over the passengers were permitted to board the ship but there they soon encountered a score of spies who watched for every move and who listened to every remark. The Germans take no chances with anyone.

Articles which are taken away during the examination are wrapped up before the eyes of the traveler and posted back to an address he gives of any friends in Berlin. Only suspicious articles are confiscated.

At present no rubber goods of any kind can be taken out no matter if it is the most necessary article. Not an ounce of rubber leaves Germany today.

ST. LOUIS HAS MORE THAN HEAT

Besides Being the Alleged Hottest Place City Has Two Brilliant Ball Players.

ARE SISLER AND HORNSBY

Both Are the Marvel of Their Respective Leagues—Can Play All Positions.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, Sept. 4.—St. Louis besides being the alleged hottest place in the world where they play baseball, can claim one more distinction. Included in the ranks of her two major league baseball clubs are two of the game's most brilliant and versatile performers.

With George Sisler outclassing all rivals as a utility man in the American League, his fellow citizen, Roger Hornsby of the Cardinals leads all opposition in the National organization.

Hornsby, who is playing his first year as a big leaguer, has played all four positions in the infield and has done mighty well at it. Of late he has been prancing around first base, but he has done most of his playing at third base and shortstop. He is to be some shucks as a catcher, too, but so far there has been no need for him to don wind-pad and mask.

Sisler, besides being a star performer at first base, is a great outfielder, and can pitch a bangup game. His fork-hand style of throwing the ball handicaps him some as an infielder, but a short time ago he went to third when Jimmy Austin was laid up and turned in a perfect fielding day. Sisler, a college product, never played a minor league game. He is spending his second season in the big show.

Each of these stars is a batting phenom of no mean ability. Hornsby since the start of the season, has not fallen below the .300 mark, while Sisler is cracking the ball right close to that and probably will go over it before the close of the season.

There isn't a man in either league who can compare with these two marvels as a utility man. Probably Clarence Mitchell of the Reds or Charley Mullen of the Yankees, comes nearest.

Mitchell is a star outfielder and can play first base satisfactorily. Likewise, he is a good pitcher.

Mullen is a flashy first sacker and can play the outfield or second base. Lee Magee of the Yanke is an excellent infielder as well as an outfielder.

Joe Tinker, manager of the Cubs, is about through looking for shortstops. Tinker declared a few days ago he is thinking seriously of getting back into the game himself. This is about the third similar announcement Tinker has made this season.

Bill Donovan has accomplished wonders with the Yankees. He is certain to be retained for next year.

James C. Dunn, president of the Cleveland Club, says he will pay $50,000 for another ball player next winter.

White Sox fans see little hope for Ted Jourdan, first baseman purchased from the St. Joseph Weston League Club. Jack Ness and Jacques Fournier have been doing great work for the Comiskey clan.

There will be two boxing clubs in the field this winter in Milwaukee. This Cream City Club, headed by Tom Andrews, will have the Auditorium again, but a place to stage the shows on the National Club, operated by the Mulkern-Steinel Organization, has not been picked.

Earl Yingling, a former left hand hurler with Brooklyn, will have a chance in the American League. The Senators have taken him from Minneapolis. He is quite a hitter as well as a heady, dependable pitcher.

BRAVES TAKE LEAGUE LEAD

Go Into First Place as Brooklyn Loses to Philadelphia.

(By United Press.)

Boston, Mass., Sept. 4.—The Boston Braves lead the National League this afternoon—by an eye lash—as a result of their victory over the Giants in the morning game while Brooklyn was going down to defeat before Philadelphia.

The Braves led with a percentage of .601 against 600 for the Dodgers. It is the first time the Dodgers have been put out of first place since early in the season. Hank Gowdy doubled scoring Smith, giving the Braves a one score margin which won.

Claim Everything

"Claim everything," seems to be the motto of the Wilson administration. In a speech some time ago, President Wilson asserted with the utmost positiveness that the Federal Reserve Act "saved the country from a ruinous panic when the stress of war came on." The facts are that war was declared August 1, 1914 and the imminence of the conflict was known to the world only three or four days earlier. On July 31, was extreme excitement Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo issued a statement in which he called attention to the fact that the Aldrich-Vreeland Act was still in force and that under its provisions there was then in the Treasury half a billion dollars which the banks could get upon application. In the next three months he issued more than $369,000,000 of emergency currency. In December, 1914, in his annual report, Secretary McAdoo expressly stated that at the time of the outbreak of the war, the Federal Reserve Act had not taken effect, and, in fact, the Federal Reserve banks did not open for business until the middle of October, 1914.

All these facts are within the knowledge of President Wilson, yet he makes the plain and unequivocal assertion that the Federal Reserve Act saved us from a panic when the war broke out. He is unwilling to give due credit to an act passed by a Republican administration. He is willing, for the sake of partisan advantage to misrepresent the facts as shown by the records and as known to the business and banking world. He may win the votes of a few of the credulous, but he will forfeit the respect and confidence of the substantial men and women of the country who believe that the ordinary rules of honesty should be observed by men whose official position makes them an example for the youth of the land to follow.

GOOD WORK FOR SICK WOMEN

The Woman's Medicine Has Proved Its Worth.

When Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies were first introduced, their curative powers were doubted and had to be proved. But the proof came, and gradually the use of them spread over the whole country. Now that hundreds of thousands of women have experienced the most beneficial effects from the use of these medicines, their value has become generally recognized, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard medicine for women.

The following letter is only one of the thousands on file in the Pinkham office, at Lynn, Mass., proving that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an article of great merit as shown by the results it produces.

Anamosa, Iowa.—"When I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I suffered with a displacement, and my system was in a general run-down condition. I would have the headache for a week and my back would ache so bad when I would bend down I could hardly straighten up. My sister was sick in bed for two months and doctored, but did not get any relief. She saw an advertisement of your medcine and tried it and got better. She told me what it had done for her, and when I had taken only two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my head began to feel better. I continued its use and now I don't have any of those troubles."—Mrs. L. J. HANNAN, R.F.D. 1, Anamosa, Iowa.

A RUSHVILLE MAN'S EXPERIENCE

Results Tell the Tale

Can you doubt the evidence of this Rushville citizen?

You can verify Rushville endorsement.

Read this:

Harrison Levi, 931 N. Sexton St., Rushville, says: "I used to have to get up six or seven times, each night on the account of the too frequent passages of the kidney secretions. Often they were scanty and accompanied by pain. I also had severe backaches. Nothing ever did me any good until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Johnson's Drug Store. It didn't take them long to fix me up. The pain left and my kidneys became regular in action." (Statement given July 27, 1912).

A PERMANENT CURE

On August 25, 1915, Mr. Levi said: "I am glad to confirm my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills, for they have given me a permanent cure."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Levi has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—(Adv.)

Those Democrats who bitterly resented the Republican charge that the President advocated a tariff commission purely as a matter of political expediency have become deeply concerned over their realization that they have provided salaries of only $7,500 a year for the six members of the Land Commission, whereas the members of the Farm Loan Board will receive $10,000 a year. This is of course simply a further proof that the Democrats generally have little faith in a Tariff Commission and that in creating it they were merely obeying the President and not enacting what they regarded as legislation of importance. An effort has been made to put responsibility for the lower salary of the tariff commission to be appointed by a Democratic president—but investigation proves that the man who was really responsible for $7,500 salaries is Rep. Cullop, of Indiana, a tariff-for-revenue-only Democrat. As compared with the $12,000 a year of the Federal Reserve Board and the $10,000 a year of the Farm Loan Board, the $7,500 of the Tariff Commission looks small.

Many soldiers serving on the border are losing their right to vote at the primaries and at the general election as a reward (?) for their patriotism and fidelity in time of national stress. These National Guardsmen, over a hundred thousand of them, were sent to the border to protect American citizens and American property from the raids of the bloodthirsty brigands across the Rio Grande. Each of them left positions in civil life which paid them many times the amount of their government pay. The sacrifices they have made are not small. And yet there is no governmental law which gives them the right to vote at their company stations for the civil officers who are to rule them when they return to their homes. The soldiers from a few states enjoy this privilege through state made laws, but the many do not. It is a shame, a disgrace, a travesty upon the vaunted justice of this country, and should be remedied without delay. The man who is willing to shed his blood for his country should not be deprived of his right to vote because of that willingness.

A man with a single idea is a crank, while one with no idea at all is often successful.

Little Roumania is wallowing around in the blood just like a small boy in a mud puddle.

And now painted stockings are becoming fashionable for bathing beach wear. Where's the beach?

Soon, no doubt, there will be quite enough war to go round.

A lie is a lie, and that's no lie.

A newspaper says that when a man has $1,000,000 he has to be careful how he spends it or his brain may be investigated.

Possibly that doctor who described love as a disease is ambitious to perform the impossible by living on love.

If there are any nations that are not fighting there is still room for another splash or two.

VIVID PAGEANT STAGED AT NIGHT

Centennial Spectacle at State Fair on Big Scale.

Students of Hoosier history will find in the Indiana centennial pageant, which is to be the chief feature of the Indiana state fair the week of Sept. 4, a vivid portrayal of the chief episodes which marked the development of the Commonwealth, from the time the first French explorers came into the wilderness until the close of the Civil war. There were many historic incidents, both thrilling and pleasing, during this stretch of Indiana history and in writing the serenario for the spectacle J. Saunders Gordon, of St. Louis, brings them out forcefully. He spent several months informing himself of Indiana history, of the spirit of the times of which he writers, the outstanding features of the state's formation, the customs of the Indians, the French explorers, the British and pioneer soldiers, the daily life of the settlers who sought homes of peace, and with fidelity the spectacle follows the state's expansion down to the time when the present era of high civic development began.

Mr. Gordon not only wrote the senario of the spectacle, but he devised the rich scenic accessories which will embellish the production. He planned the forts, the log cabins, the Indian village, and the other Indiana scenery which will serve as the background of the big production. He also planned the elaborate display of fireworks which is to follow the spectacle each evening, giving a pronounced Hoosier centennial flavor to the huge set pieces and the aerial displays that are to be fired.

In addition to all these preparations, Mr. Gordon has directed the formation of the groups of people who will give life to the night pageant and has directed the rehearsals of the hundreds of men and women who will present the production.

The spectacle will be given on a stage about 500 feet long, with all the scenic vesture necessary to make it a great and brilliant production. Some of Indiana's most historical men will have speaking parts in the pageant, among them Governor William Henry Harrison; Tecumseh, the most famous of Indiana's red warriers; Col. Shuler, who gave chase to Morgan, the Civil war raider; and a number of others.

White and Indian soldiers on foot and on horseback, fighting the battles of Vincennes and Tippecanoe; pioneer men and women venturing into the virgin Hoosier wilderness with their ox teams to set up their log cabins and clear the ground for their farms; the building of the first statehouse at Corydon and adopting the state's constitution under the historic elm tree at that place, are only a few of the intense incidents which are woven into the dramatic action which abounds throughout the spectacle.

There is intense interest over the state this year in all affairs relating to Indiana's centennial. Many very elaborate spectacles have been given, while that at the Indiana state fair will not only measure up to them in magnitude and splendor, but it will have additional picturesque richness, since it is the only great pageant of the year to be staged after night with brilliant illuminating effects.

A Real Humorist

(Columbus Republican)

One of the questions at the last examination given for teachers here was to name an Indiana humorist and give an example of his work. If any of the teachers had named Tom Taggart as an Indiana humorist and had given his speech on economy as a sample of humor, The Republican believes it would have been up to Superintendent Sharp to have given the applicant a full grade for the answer. Because Senator Taggart has qualified for the humorist class without a doubt. He stirred the state by his attack on the Democratic Congress and its wasteful methods. He warmed the cockles of many a heart by his denunciation of pork barrel legislation. But no sooner had he relieved his system of this speech than he began to frank out by the hundreds of thousands, a piece of Democratic campaign literature. It was a great crime, he thought, to send out garden seeds, but it was perfectly proper to flood the state, under his personal frank, with a list of ten questions some fellow humorists had sent to Charles E. Hughes.

Examine Your TEETH Tonight

—after you clean them.

You will find, in all probability, an accumulation of tartar on the enamel and bits of food deposit hiding between the crevices. YOUR DENTIFRICE does not FULLY CLEAN! Loss of teeth is caused usually by one of two conditions—Pyorrhea or decay, both of which develop, as a rule, only in the mouth where germ-laden tartar is present.

SENRECO, the recently discovered formula of a dental specialist, is two-fold in its action. First, it REALLY CLEANS, embodying specially prepared, soluble granules unusually effective in cleaning away food deposits. Second, it is particularly destructive to the germ of Pyorrhea. Yet it is perfectly safe, containing neither injurious chemicals nor hard grit.

Avoid Pyorrhea and decay. Get Senreco from your dealer today. In large tubes, 25c. Send 4c to Senreco, 304 Walnut Street, Cincinnati, Ohio, for liberal-sized trial package.

Does It Pay?

DOES it pay to advertise in dull seasons? No use answering a question with a theory when facts are at hand—facts like these:

August used to be the dullest month of all the year in the furniture business—now it is the very busiest because advertising turned dullness into activity.

January was formerly a time when men's clothing stores did no business. Now, by advertising, they make record sales.

Right down the list instances can be cited where merchants and manufacturers have turned supposedly dull periods into busy ones.

And they did it by advertising—by newspaper advertising in most instances.

Sitting around cussing the weather won't ring the the cash register, but advertising will. Newspaper advertising coupled with good merchandizing will drive any dull month from the calendar. Perhaps not at once, but little by little.

Now is the time to increase business for the immediate present and get a flying start for the Fall Now is the time to make your advertising plans and begin an aggressive bid for business.

Censor Is Not the Fool That One Would Naturally Take Him To Be

By HAL O'FLAHERTY

London Aug. 20 (By Mail)—"The censor is not the damm fool you take him to be."

The above line was penned by a British censor upon a letter from an officer at the front to his wife, in which an ingenious code was discovered. It meant to disclose to the anxious wife just where her husband was fighting, but it was spoiled by the censor and an order was issued by the war office prohibiting such practices.

Before the officer, who wrote the code letter, left for the front, he secured two maps showing the entire British fighting line. The maps were identical. One he left with his wife and the other he took with him.

Thereafter, each time he wrote a letter, he placed the stationery on his map, stuck a pin through it directly over Paris, another directly over Brussels, and a third at the point where he was stationed. Upon receiving the letter, his wife would superimpose it on her map, adjusting the extreme pinholes over Paris and Brussels, and her husbands whereabouts would be indicated by the middle hole.

This is but one of a score of codes and secret signals discovered by the censors recently. England does not censure the relatives of men at the front for wanting to know the locality in which they are fighting and perhaps dying, but such disclosures become a menace. No one knows how extensive Germany's espionage system may be, and England is taking no chances.

Another code system used by a certain officer was more elaborate than the one pointed out by the censor, with his "damm fool" notation. It was arranged by the officer with his wife just before he sailed for France, and consisted of two charts of the battle line, one of which he retained while the wife kept the other. Each map was laid out in blocks an inch square; each square could be identified by combinations of letters indicating each line of squares from left to right Down the left hand side was another row of letters.

In writing home, the officer would say: "Give my regards to L. A. Smith." Being a fictitious name, the wife would know it as a key to her secret code. Putting her finger on the "A" line of the squares on her chart, she would follow along under the "L" squares, in which was her husband's position at the front.

It is improbable that any information contained in these code letters has ever reached the Germans, but there is a possibility of such a mischance and England is losing no opportunity to defeat a spy system that has made Englishmen gasp.

A Total of $64,135 Offered in Premiums of Which Horses Will Get $27,000.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 4.—With every branch of Indiana industry represented, the Indiana state fair opened here today.

Special features and the annual "staples" such as elaborate exhibits, fine races and the like, caused the fair management to predict that with good weather the week should be most successful.

This being centennial year, the state fair will do its part. A night spectacle will be staged which has taken six weeks to prepare, and in which several hundred men, women and children will take part. It will picture the coming of the first white men into the Indiana wilderness, the first settlements, the battles of Vincennes and Tippecanoe, the organizations of the state, government and so on up to modern times.

Premiums offered this year total $64,135. The largest amount for one department is for horses, which will draw $35,124. Of this, $27,000 is in purses for races.

There will be no night horse show, the pageant taking its place, but day shows will give the equine fancier his opportunity.

Total premiums for the cattle department are $11,289. Sheep will draw $3,479 in premiums and poultry $2,186.

Devotes of the rod will have their opportunity for the first time to view an extensive exhibit of Indiana fish at the state fair.

Woman suffrage advocates invaded the state fair this year, placing a tent in a prominent place, placarded as a rest tent for women. Workers for the cause were stationed today in a campaign for votes.

VALUE TO WINNER IS $12,000

(By United Press.)

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 4.—Cincinnati's million dollar auto Speedway was opened today with the running of the $30,000 international sweepstakes, a 300 mile race.

The first prize amounted to $12,000, second, $5,000, third, $1,500, fourth, $1,300, fifth $1,200, sixth, $1,100, seventh, $900, eighth, $800, and ninth, $700.

Dario Resta, Ralph DePalma, Ralph Mulford and other world famous drivers started while it was estimated 100,000 persons crowded the huge ampitheatre, situated at Sharonville, O., 15 miles from here.

ADDRESSES ARE ON PROGRAM

Both the miners and the operators were represented at today's meeting. Teams were here representing Princeton, Bicknell, Jasonville, Universal, Linton, Cass, Jackson Hill, Bruceville, Gilmour, Clinton, Winslow and Shepherdsville. All members of teams entered were to receive silk watch fobs and special trophies were provided for the winners.

Addresses were given by Attorney General Evan B. Stotsenberg, representing the state, Board Member Hessler representing the miners of District 11, and Phil Penna representing the operators of the district.

CLASS REUNION

The visit of Mrs. Mayme Saniter of New York was the cause of the reunion of the class of 1900 of the New Salem high school held at the Scanlan House last evening. It was an event filled with pleasant memories for the members of the class, this being the first reunion since their graduation. Scarlet and green was the color scheme brought out in the decorations and appointments with roses and geraniums. The dinner was served in buffet style and was followed by toasts given by the members of the class, when J. F. McKee was toastmaster, spicing his talk with clever remarks. There were thirty-two guests including the members of the class and their families. They were Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Williams and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McKee and family, Mr. and Mrs. George King and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. King and family, Mr. and Mrs. Curt Geise and family, Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Wamsley and daughter, Kathryn, and Mrs. Saniter and daughter.

The original and clever toast given by the guest of honor follows:

To The Class of 1900

The class of 1900, of New Salem High,
Graduated with honors up to the sky.
How we passed is a mystery to each one here.
For we did nothing but play, the entire year.
The trumpeter of the class was Willard King.
When he blew his nose, he made the old room ring.
Many neighbors around would come to their doors
And say "Mr. Paxton, what was that uproar."
A class wedding in thought there would be
Between Chester Williams and Nellie McKee.
But at the end of the year, this prim little girl.
Was going around in search of a pearl.
Chester Williams was the saint of the class.
He studied by the hour and always did pass.
And when school was over, and books overthrown.
It wasn't long until he was hit by a stone.
Mamie Kemp last but not least.
Was as dignified as a Catholic priest.
Until she heard Carl shake his inkwell,
Then she had an everlasting giggling spell.
Sixteen years have passed since we last met.
For all these good times we have no regret.
And to Nelle and her Pearl, we extend our thanks
For getting together this bunch of old cranks.

TO CHECK WASTE DOMINATE NOTE

Will be Theme of Conference on Marketing of Farm Products to be Held in Chicago.

IT WILL BE AN OPEN FORUM

Farmers Organizations Everywhere Are Invited to Send Men and Tell Their Troubles.

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Sept. 4.—How to check the billion dollar waste in the marketing of farm products will be the dominant theme of the fourth national conference on marketing and farm credits, called today to meet in Chicago December 4 and 5.

Farmers of all states are expected to unite in a discussion of ways and means to remedy a condition termed "wasteful and iniquitous in the extreme" by the committee in its meeting notice.

Surveys will be made prior to the winter gathering that will show the movement of crops, such as livestock, grain, cotton and hay. The whole milk problem and its relation to city distribution will be worked out.

Practical plans will be drawn for eliminating waste, improving farm products and increasing the consumption of certain farm crops.

Half of the conference work will be devoted to rural credits and the federal farm loan act will come in for its share of criticism.

"The delegates will analyze the scope and limitations of the act," said Secretary Charles W. Holman of Madison, Wis., today. "And when they are through the American farmer will know what to expect under its terms. Contrary to the general belief, this act does not solve the rural credit problem. It is a beginning, but a crude one. It may prove to be almost inoperative in a number of states where federal jurisdiction will clash with existing homestead laws."

"Nor does the act touch even remotely the question of personal credit and it is a long way from striking at the great problem of turning tenants and landless men into home owning farmers.

"How to adjust state laws to harmonize with the act will be shown by speakers at the conference. Aid for the landless man and the immigrant will be discussed. We expect delegates from every state in the Union and from Canada.

"A feature of the winter sessions will be hearings to bring out needed information. The results of careful investigation and long experience will be presented on practical phases of the questions.

"Farmers organizations will be invited to send men to tell their troubles.

"The conference is an open forum now in its fourth year. It is non-partisan. Its deliberations are followed up from year to year by committees and special bodies working for the delegates." The general committeemen signing the call are:

Frank L. McVey, chairman, Grand Forks, N. D., president of the University of North Dakota; Frank P. Holland of Dallas, publisher of Farm & Ranch; Gifford Pinchot, Milford Pa.; Governor Arthur Capper of Kansas, president of the Capper farm papers; Charles S. Barrett, Union City, Pa., president of the National Farmers union; Lou D. Sweet, Denver; Charles McCarty of Madison, Wis.; chief of the Wisconsin Legislative Reference library; James C. Caldwell, Lakefield, Minn.; H. J. Hughes of Minneapolis, editor of Farm, Stock & Home; Charles Poe of Raleigh, N. C., president Progressive Farmer papers.

SUFFS WILL GET LINE ON DIXIE

Expect to Get "Inside Information" On Conditions in South At Called Convention

IS CONSIDERED IMPORTANT

Will Likely Determine Policy to be Followed During The Coming Campaign

(By United Press.)

Atlantic City, Sept. 4.—Several hundred of Dixie's fairest daughters will take an active part in the emergency—called convention of the National American Woman Suffrage Association here Sept. 6th.

They will bring with them some "inside information" on what the Southern politicians think of suffrage, and on their report to the convention will depend whatever decision is made for future suffrage activity below the Mason-Dixon line.

So important is the South regarded by the suffrage leaders that one entire evening session of the convention has been set aside for a presentation of the Dixie suffragists' reports. The night of September seventh will be officially known as "Dixie Night", and it promises to furnish one of the big surprises of the convention. On that night the delegates from all parts of the country will get some first hand information from Southern women on how the South stands on suffrage. According to Mrs. Carrie Chapan Catt President of the National Association, the information will not be displeasing.

Details of the information which is to be presented to the convention by the Southern leaders are being jealously guarded, but it is admitted that there are surprises in store for those who have been laboring under the delusion that the Southern States as whole, are opposed to granting the ballot to women.

Among the representative women who will speak Dixie Night and tell of the strides woman suffrage is making in the south are:

Mrs. B. J. Cunningham, president of the Texas Woman Suffrage Association, Mrs. Edward McGehee president of the Mississippi Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs Lila Meade Valentine, president of the Virginia Equal Suffrage League Other Southern Leaders on the program include Mrs. Eugene Rielley vice president, General Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Guildford Dudley, president Tenessee Equal Suffrage Association, Inc.; Mrs. T T. Cotnam, vice president Arkansas Woman Suffrage Association, and Mrs. Thomas Jefferson Smith, president Kentucky Equal Rights Association.

President Wilson and Mr. Hughes have been invited to address the convention, considered the most important ever called in the suffrage history of the country. Its specific purpose is to determine the political policy which the National American Woman Suffrage Association—a strictly non-partisan body—will follow during the coming Fall campaign.

MINORS OFFER FEW PLAYERS

Pickings Rather Slim For The Scouts Of Major League Clubs— Few Exceptions

CUBS GRAB INDIAN PLAYERS

Best Talent is Found in American Association And Pacific Coast Leagues

BY HAMILTON
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, Sept. 4.—With races in the big leagues fast drawing to a close managers are looking toward prospects for next year, with the class of new playing talent picked up in the minors holding an important place.

Every year word comes to the east of phenomenal ball players in the minors. Usually these are taken up, and sometimes they make good. More often than not, however, they are sent back. This year, perhaps more than any recent season, there is a dearth of good playing talent in the minors.

Purchases, up to the present have been very few and only players of extraordinary ability have been picked off by the scouts. Some of these already have reported, while others are being held for delivery at the opening of the training season next year.

The big minors, the American association, the International league and the Pacific Coast league, will supply the greatest amount of real material, as usual. In the lower leagues the percentage of ball players who look promising is remarkably low.

In the American association, there are a number of ball players who look like real finds. Among these is pitcher Nick Carter, purchased from Indianapolis by the Cubs. Carter is a big right hander who was held by the Cleveland Americans at the beginning of the present season and turned over to Indianapolis with hardly a trail. He was the best pitcher in the association this year.

Outfielder Joe Kelly is another Indianapolis player taken by the Cubs and Pitcher Victor Aldridge and Dex Dawson of the Indians will report next spring.

Kansas City has sent Chuck Wortman to the Cubs. Jimmy Middleton, former hurler for Louisville, has been sent to the Giants, and Infielder Joe Leonard of the Columbus club has reported to Cleveland.

Minneapolis and Washington are carrying on their usual interchange, with a trial for Earl Yinling and Mike Menoske being assured. Mike Regan, star hurler for Kansas City, is certain to make a trip to the majors, and Pitcher Pierce of Toledo may get another chance.

In the Coast league there is a wealth of good material. Portland offers Wilie and Southworth, outfielders, Louis Guisto, first baseman, and Allen Sothron, pitcher. Guisto has been sold to Cleveland. Oakland has Martin, a pitcher. San Francisco expects to dispose of Ping Bodie, outfielder, and Johnny Couch, pitcher. Salt Lake has First Baseman Bunny Brief and Pitcher Fittery. Los Angeles offers Catcher Bassler, Pitcher Horstmann and Outfielder Wolter.

Vernon has three stars in Infielders McGaffigan, Risberg and Bates. Of the trio McGaffigan is the least likely to go up. He is an excellent fielder, but his disposition on the diamond handicaps him greatly.

The International league is mainly populated with players from the majors under optional agreement. A large number of these, including Urban Shocker, sensational Toronto hurler, have been recalled. In fact Bill Donovan almost wrecked several clubs by recalling many of his youngsters when the Yankees were so badly crippled. (Howard Ehmke is certain to be given a thorough trial, as is Pitcher McTigue. Ehmke will go to Detroit.

Paddy Siglin and Jimmie Smith, two Pirate farmhands, remarkable fielders but poor stickers, will have another chance.

Would-be baseball moguls can get all the baseball they want by a trip into the Western league. There are eight clubs in the circuit and seven of them are on the market for most any old price.

TO ELEVATE THE LEGATION

Spain Will Have an Embassy in Argentina Hereafter.

(By United Press.)

Buenps Aires September 4.—To avoid international jealousy, the Spanish legation in Argentina is to be elevated to the rank of an embassy, such as the United States has, it was learned here today.

King Alfonso's ministry has decided on the step and the approval of the cortes is considered certain. When the Argentina legation at Washington was made an embassy and the Washington legatees here was similarly elevated, there was much objection here and in Madrid on the ground that Spain, as Argentina's parent land, should come first.

SUNDAY WAS DAY OF ACCIDENTS

Traction Car Hits Auto West of City—Hand of Connersville Boy is Amputated

SERIES NEAR ARLINGTON

James Sharer of Carthage Unable to Get Machine Off Track but Occupants Escape

Sunday was a day of accidents in Rush county, automobiles, traction cars and trains as usual playing the main parts. While no one was killed, several had close escapes and one boy lost his left hand under the wheels of a C. I. & W. train.

One of the most thrilling of the entire day occurred yesterday afternoon at the Hackleman stop on the I. & C. traction line, one mile west of the city, when west-bound car leaving here at 5:42 o'clock hit the automobile owned by James Sharer of Carthage. Mr. and Mrs. Sharer escaped injury but the runabout in which they were riding was demolished.

Mr. Sharer, who was driving, drove the car directly on the tracks where he killed the engine. Both occupants of the machine saw the car approaching and got out. Mr. Sharer attempted to move his machine off the track by hand, but had the brakes set and was unable to do so. He barely got away from the machine when the car struck. The rear part of the auto was badly damaged.

Hand Amputated

Roy Scanlon, 15, of Connersville, who with a party of boys were attempting to "beat" their way from this city to Connersville on a C. I. & W. freight train, walked off between two cars of the moving train and sustained such a badly mangled left hand that it was amputated at the wrist. The accident occurred Sunday morning a three o'clock near the local freight depot.

The boys, it is understood, have made a practice of riding freight trains to this city every Saturday night and were on their way home when the accident occurred. The crowd of boys was on top of the cars and Scanlon explained the accident by stating it was so dark he did not see the end of the car and walked off, falling on the tracks. The hand was badly lacerated and it was necessary to amputate. The boy was taken to his home Sunday afternoon.

Many Bones Broken

A series of accidents befell Arlington people yesterday, Dr. A. G. Schaak being called on to reduce three fractured bones. Jesse Gallimore, living near Arlington, sustained a broken left arm, while working with his hogs. His arm was caught in the doorway of a hog house by an onrushing pig and fractured. The hog hit the arm with great force.

The second accident of the Arlington neighborhood occurred when Vida Seward, 10 years old, stumbled and fell breaking both bones in her left arm. The little girl was coming out of the yard to meet her aunt, Mrs. Stella Davis, who had been away for a few days when she fell.

Mrs. Sam Ball of Arlington was the third victim of the day. Mrs. Ball was on her way to attend the Adventist meeting in Indianapolis when she fell fracuring the bone in her right wrist.

Suffers Broken Leg

Dr. Joel D. Whitaker of Indianapolis sustained a broken leg Sunday afternoon in an automobile accident near Andersonville. He was riding with James Allison, one of the owners of the Prest-O-Lite company

PLEDGES WIPE OUT DEBT

$2,400 is Raised at St. Paul's Methodist Church

Pledges amounting to $2,400, which wipes out the church debt, were made yesterday at the St. Paul's Methodist church. The debt of the church was lifted at the home coming and a large crowd responded. $500 of this amount is to be applied to the cost of the new furnace installed at the church and the balance goes towards the debt on the church parsonage. The Rev. W. R. Halstead of Terre Haute preached at both services yesterday and helped in obtaining the pledges.

SPURIOUS COINS ARE PASSED HERE

Stranger Gets Rid of Two Counterfeit $10 Gold Pieces at Local Grocery Stores

MADE SMALL PURCHASES

Two spurious $10 gold pieces were put in circulation here Saturday night, two grocerymen being the victims. The coins were passed at both places by the same man and while the police have a good description they have been unable to get any trace of him.

The coins were passed at the stores of Elmer Miller, corner of Third and Buena Vista avenue, and William Voyle, in West Second street. At both places the man represented himself to be a farm hand and purchased a pound of coffee and some tobacco. The coffee was found in Washington street Sunday morning.

At the time the coins appeared to be genuine but yesterday morning the discovery was made. The glitter was all gone and it was seen that they were the rankest kind of counterfeit. The coins bore the date of 1895. The government officials in Indianapolis were notified this morning by Chief Yakey.

SWEEZEY ENTERED PLEA OF GUILTY

Horse Thief Sentenced to One to Fourteen Years at Jeffersonville by Judge Sparks

TOTTLEBIN IS RELEASED

William Sweezey, the Greensburg youth, who took the horse and buggy belonging to Leonidas Keisling of Richland township from the Rush county fair grounds, fair week, entered a plea of guilty this morning before Judge Sparks to a charge of grand larceny. Sweezey was sentenced to the state reformatory at Jeffersonville to serve not less than one year and not more than fourteen years. In addition to this he was fined $50 and disfranchised for a period of one year.

Sweezey, it will be recalled, sold the outfit at Batesville and Newpoint and it was through the sale that he was traced.

William Tottlebin of Connersville held in jail here in connection with the theft of the Clarence Carney automobile last week, was released this morning when the charge against him was dismissed on motion of the prosecution attorney. A lack of evidence was given as the cause.

James Tweedy, a former teacher in the Manilla and Falmouth schools has purchased a farm near Fairmount and is now living there.

NEW COURT TERM GETS GOOD START

Opening Marked by Large Attendance of Attorneys—Many Cases are Dismissed

JURY TRIAL WEDNESDAY

Case Against Charles Perkins, Charged With "Bootlegging" Will Start Then

The September term of the Rush circuit court, opening today, had an auspicious start and a large attendance of attorneys marked the first day of court in over two months. An exceptionally large crowd of attorneys attended the opening session, a total of eighteen being present. The usual routine was followed this morning, Judge Sparks calling the docket.

No cases were set for trial and the actual business of trying cases will not start until Wednesday. At this time the jury will report and the case against Charles Perkins, charged with "bootlegging" will be tried. Perkins was indicted jointly with Joe Lakin. Lakin asked for a separate trial and as a result the state elected to try the case against Perkins first. The cases were set for Tuesday but one of the jurors was called from the city and the case pushed up one day.

On Friday the case against James Kratzer, charged with operating a place for gaming, will be tried. In this as in the other, separate trials were asked by the defendants, who in this case are James Kratzer, John Wolter und Walter E. Smith.

The usual number of cases were dismissed this morning including a number of divorce suits that were filed during vacation. The case of Martha Easley against Henry Easley was dismissed at the plaintiff's costs. Another divorce suit to go by the boards was that of Ordell Conde against Scott Conde. This was dismissed at the plaintiff's costs.

Still another divorce suit to be disposed of by the dismissal route was that of Charles Lechner against Evaline Lechner. This went the same way as the others. In the divorce suit of Jennie Ryon against James Ryon, the restraining order was dissolved by agreement except that pertaining to the $1,000 worth of Indianapolis Street railways stock he owns. It was also agreed that he would give her the sum of $5 a week for support money pending the trial of the case.

Other cases dismissed were those of Robert S. McCray against Darst Beckner, et al., to set aside a deed; Vincent Early against Clyde Early on notes demanding $700; R. F. Scudder against Chase G. Cross, on note demanding $100.

By agreement John H. Kiplinger was appointed to act as special judge in the case of Ollie F. Thompson against Eddie Thompson in which she seeks to have Mr. Thompson removed as her guardian. Judge Sparks was at one time interested in the case and would not act as judge.

MILROY MAN IS FOUND BY SON

William Smith, Who Disappeared Years Ago, Recognized at Mayo Hospital by His Child

NOW LIVES IN MISSOURI

Is Remembered by Many People Here—Was Son of the Late Jerry Smith of That Place

The story of how a father and son were reunited after years of separation has drifted back to Milroy. The story is of particular interest to Milroy, although the parties are known by many people over the county.

Many years ago William Smith, a son of the late Jerry Smith, disappeared from Milroy, deserting his family. Nothing was heard from him and no one was ever found who had ever seen him. No cause was given at the time for his disappearance and at the time it was thought perhaps he had met with foul play. Mr. Smith was long since given up as dead.

He had a son named Anson Smith. This son went through college and by hard work became a physician. As a physician he soon gained considerable reputation and was taken into the Mayo sanitorium in Minnesota.

Some weeks ago Dr. Smith operated or assisted in an operation upon an elderly man from the state of Missouri. The man bore the name Smith and for some unknown reason took a liking to the doctor with the name Smith. The two struck up an acquaintance and then began the comparisons of family records. This did not go far until the Smith from Missouri confessed to being the father of Dr. Smith.

Smith went from here direct to Missouri and from all reports did good. In the meagre details drifting back to Milroy no reason has been given for his leaving home. His family drifted away from this county and the people soon lost track of them. It is not known what became of his wife.

MANY SUFFER BROKEN LIMBS

(By United Press.)

Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 4.—At 1:35 p. m. this afternoon the south section of the $3 reserve seats for the Welsh-White fight collapsed with terrific force, injuring 25 people, five or six seriously. Included in the injured are several women.

Ambulances parked outside the arena were put into instant use and the victims were rushed to hospitals and doctor's offices. The section was 20 rows deep and about 20 feet wide. Probably 200 people went down with the crash. Police and firemen aided in the rescue work. The crowd in other parts of the arena remained comparatively quiet and the band played. The sale of $3 seats was stopped. The most seriously injured are suffering from broken limbs.

WOMAN'S RECOVERY IS NOW ASSURED

Mrs. Rhoda Wells, Accident Victim, Able to Sit up Few Houfs And is Rational

WAS INJURED ONE WEEK AGO

Mrs. Rhoda Wells, injured one week ago today when a C. I. & W. train hit the wagon in which she, her husband and boy were riding, is so greatly improved that there can be little doubt as to her final recovery. Mrs. Wells has been able to sit up for several hours at a time and has talked of the accident. She believes her husband is in an Indianapolis hospital.

The little Lewis Wells, is also getting along as well as could be expected although it may be necessary to amputate two more of his toes and possibly the entire left foot. Two of the toes on his foot were taken off following the accident and now the foot is not doing as well as the doctors would like and there is danger that more of the toes will be taken off.

URGES SPIRIT OF FRANKNESS

Secretary Lansing Tells Commission to Enter Discussion of Mexican Problem Openly

AFTER PERMANENT SOLUTION

(By United Press.)

New York, Sept. 4.—A permanent not merely a temporary solution of the problem is sought by this government through the Mexican and American commission to discuss the points in controversy between the two countries, Secretary of State Lansing told the commissioners here today. He addressed the Mexican and American representatives at luncheon.

He said: "To reach such a settlement that will be lasting and sure it will be necessary to go to the root of the matter and consider the international rights and duties of the individual to the state and the rights of the state to be individuals."

Lansing urged that the commission of both countries enter the meeting in a spirit of frankness.

MACHINE WAS ON FIRE.

A short circuit on the wiring leading to the electric horn came near setting fire to the auto owned by Hillery Haydon Sunday afternoon. The insulation on the wires was burned off and considerable smoke resulted. The machine was stopped in Main street and the occupants got out. The fire department was called, but the fire was put out with chemicals.

UNCLE SAM GETS LINCOLN FARM

Log Cabin and Land in Kentucky That Was His Birthplace is Presented to Government

ADDRESS BY GOVERNOR FOLK

Declares he Founded an Americanism That is Ideal and not Merely Political

ACCEPTS DEED

(By United Press.)

Hodgenville, Ky., Sept. 4.—President Wilson received the deed to the property together with the endowment fund of $100,000 for its maintainance from the Lincoln Farm Association this afternoon. Standing before the cabin the president spoke of Lincoln as embodying the real spirit of democracy.

Hodgensville, Ky., Sept. 4.—President Lincoln's home farm and the log cabin that he was born in were formally presented to Uncle Sam by the Lincoln Farm Association, an organization which rescued the place from obscurity and neglect, here today. Most of the contributions for the purchase came from the common people Lincoln loved so well.

Former Governor Joseph W. Folk of Missouri, President of the association, in presenting the farm and cabin to the government, emphasized the need for Americanism in the everyday life of the individual American, in the government and particularly in the foreign relations of the United States. Mr. Folk said in part:

"The spirit of Lincoln is more alive today than when he lived in the flesh. Hisi deals live in millions of American freemen.

"He founded an Americanism that is not a matter of creed or national descent, but an ideal of the soul and of the mind; an Americanism that is not merely a union of political entities, but of a common aspiration and a common destiny.

"Lincoln's Americanism was so virile that there need be no nation so strong we should fear it, or so powerful we should cower at its feet; an Americanism so just that the Golden Rule may be the supreme law guiding us in our diplomatic relations with other nations; an Americanism ready to defend against the aggression of all nations, but intentionally offending none in upholding the priciples of the rights of man throughout the world; an Americanism that gives hope to those who would preserve the sacred fire of brotherhood now in danger of being extinguished in the sanguinary floods across the sea; an Americanism based upon service for the common good and equality of opportunity for all."

A large crowd was present for the presentation celebration.

THE LORD'S PRAYER.

Miss Mamie Warren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Warren of this city, who is a nurse at St. Vincent's hospital in Indianapolis, encountered a patient who used as a bookmark the original copy of an unusual poem, the last of each line of which is the Lord's Prayer. The composition was found on the battlefield at Charleston, S. C. It was written by a wounded soldier who never lived to get home. Miss Warren has sent a copy of the poem here. It follows:

Thou to the mercy seat our souls doth gather
To do our duty unto thee—Our Father,
To whom all praise, all honor should be given.
For thou are the great God—Who art in heaven.
Thou by thy wisdom rul'st the world's fame;
Forever, therefore—Hallowed be Thy name.
Let never more delay divide us from Thy glorious face but let—Thy kingdom come.
Let Thy commands opposed by none be.
But Thy good pleasure and—Thy will be done.
And let our promptness to obey be even
The very same—In earth as it 'tis in heaven.
Then for our souls, Oh! Lord we also pray.
Thou would be pleased to—Give us this day
The food of life wherewith our souls are fed,
Sufficient rainment and—Our daily bread.
With every needful thing do thou relieveus
An dfor mercy pity—And forgive us.
All our misdeeds for whom thou didst please
To make an offering for—Our trespasses,
And for as much, Oh! Lord, as we believe
That thou will pardon us—As we forgive
Let thy love teach, wherewith thou doest acquaint us
To pardon all—Thou who trespass against us
And though sometimes thou findst we have forgot
This love for thee, yet help—And lead us not
Through soul and body's want to desperation.
Nor let earth's gain drive us—into temptation
Let not the soul of any true believer
Fall in the time of trial—But deliver
Yea, save them form the malice of the devil
And both in life and death keep—Us from evil.
Thus we Lord, for thought of thee, from whom
This may be had—For thine is the kingdom.
This world is of thy work its wonderous story,
To thee belongs—the power and the glory.

TRAVELERS ARE STRIPPED NAKED

Everyone Leaving Germany Must Undergo Careful Scrutiny of the Authorities

TEST KNOWS NO FRIENDS

Closest Examination of Personal Effects Made to Prevent Plans Being Carried Away

By CARL W. ACKERMAN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Copenhagen, August 10—(By Mail—Everyone who leaves Germany today via Warnemuende for Denmark is stripped to the skin. Ears, nose, teeth and toes are examined to see that no information or plans for the enemy are being carried out.

Reichstag members, wives of officials, correspondents and laborers are treated the same.

An American crossing the border yesterday remarked that before long it would be necessary for the inspection station to be built into the Baltic sea so that the travelers could undress on the German border, walk into the water and swim to a waiting station near the ferry and wait for the clothes and baggage to be examined and forwarded by canoe.

When travelers leave the train they enter a small wooden shed, resembling in many respects a temporary bath house at an American beach. Here the passports are taken away and shoved into an enclosed room where they are examined. The holders are given numbers.

When the passport of a traveler is finished he is called to another room where he is questioned about the objects of his journey. From here the wayfarer goes to a large room when the baggage is examined while detectives stand in front and in back to see that nothing is slipped by.

Every scrap of paper or card board is taken away, even wrappings and paper lining to boxes. Cotton is removed from medicine bottles. Cigars are examined, some are cut open, chocolate in sealed packages is opened, the wrapping destroyed and half the chocolate broken up into bits to see that nothing is hidden.

Shoes with a new half sole are opened. The searcher feels everything, examines canes to see whether they are hollow, opens umbrellas, holds every collar up to the light to see that nothing is written on the lining.

"After the baggage is examined," said an American woman who crossed the border yesterday. "the men and women are taken into separate compartments, about the size of a large individual bath house and there every bit of clothing is removed. Women are examined by women, men by men.

"The searcher went through every piece of my clothes, examined the border of my underwear and held almost every inch of my clothes up to the light. Even the roses I wore were examined petal by petal, my wrist watch was opened back and front, so also my shoes, umbrella and hat.

"I had to take down my hair and my scalp was examined thoroughly—I suppose to see that I didn't have a map of Metz concealed thereon. Then my ears, teeth, hands, toes and back were examined, but fortunately I was not a suspicious woman because I was not washed in alcohol to see if there were any concealed maps drawn on my skin. The alcohol and a basin of water with towels were there and on a shelf I noticed a bottle of aromatic spirits of ammonia and drinking water for those who might faint under examination, but in every way the women were courteous and gentle."

After that was over the passengers were permitted to board the ship but there they soon encountered a score of spies who watched for every move and who listened to every remark. The Germans take no chances with anyone.

Articles which are taken away during the examination are wrapped up before the eyes of the traveler and posted back to an address he gives of any friends in Berlin. Only suspicious articles are confiscated.

At present no rubber goods of any kind can be taken out no matter if it is the most necessary article. Not an ounce of rubber leaves Germany today.

BRIMSTONE, THE ONLY SUBMARINE CAT ALIVE

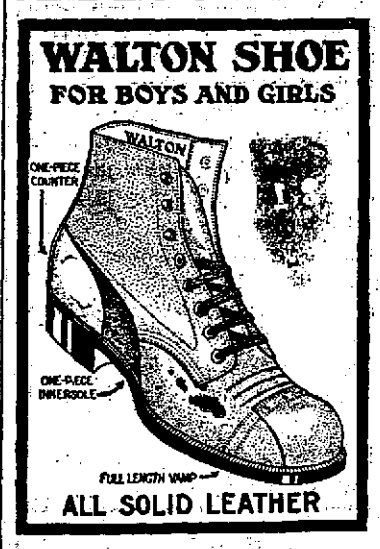

(By United Press.)

Paris, Tex., Sept. 4.—T. L. Randell, a farmer living near here, owns the only submarine cat in captivity. Her name is Brimstone. She has eight children. They have eight appetites and seventy-two lives. Randell also owns a private pond, stocked with game fish. To assuage her own and her family's hunger, today went the cat fishing. She crouched on shore until a fish swam within reach, then dove into the pond, caught the fish in her mouth and swam ashore. She caught 11 in an hour. Randell has put his dog on guard to keep the cat from depopulating the pond.

ST. LOUIS HAS MORE THAN HEAT

Besides Being the Alleged Hottest Place City Has Two Brilliant Ball Players.

ARE SISLER AND HORNSBY

Both Are the Marvel of Their Respective Leagues—Can Play All Positions.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, Sept. 4.—St. Louis besides being the alleged hottest place in the world where they play baseball, can claim one more distinction. Included in the ranks of her two major league baseball clubs are two of the game's most brilliant and versatile, performers.

With George Sisler outclassing all rivals as a utility man in the American League, his fellow citizen, Roger Hornsby of the Cardinals leads all opposition in the National organization.

Hornsby, who is playing his first year as a big leaguer, has played all four positions in the infield and has done mighty well at it. Of late he has been prancing around first base, but he has done most of his playing at third base and shortstop. He is to be some shucks as a catcher, too, but so far there has been no need for him to don wind-pad and mask.

Sisler, besides being a star performer at first base, is a great outfielder, and can pitch a bangup game. His fork-hand style of throwing the ball handicaps him some as an infielder, but a short time ago he went to third when Jimmy Austin was laid up and turned in a perfect fielding day. Sisler, a college product, never played a minor league game. He is spending his second season in the big show.

Each of these stars is a batting phenom of no mean ability. Hornsby since the start of the season, has not fallen below the .300 mark, while Sisler is cracking the ball right close to that and probably will go over it before the close of the season.

There isn't a man in either league who can compare with these two marvels as a utility man. Probably Clarence Mitchell of the Reds or Charley Mullen of the Yankees, comes nearest.

Mitchell is a star outfielder and can play first base satisfactorily. Likewise, he is a good pitcher.

Mullen is a flashy first sacker and can play the outfield or second base. Lee Magee of the Yanke is an excellent infielder as well as an outfielder.

Joe Tinker, manager of the Cubs, is about through looking for shortstops. Tinker declared a few days ago he is thinking seriously of getting back into the game himself. This is about the third similar announcement Tinker has made this season.

Bill Donovan has accomplished wonders with the Yankees. He is certain to be retained for next year. James C. Dunn, president of the Cleveland Club, says he will pay $50,000 for another ball player next winter.

White Sox fans see little hope for Ted Jourdan, first baseman purchased from the St. Joseph Weston League Club. Jack Ness and Jacques Fournier have been doing great work for the Comiskey clan.

There will be two boxing clubs in the field this winter in Milwaukee. This Cream City Club, headed by Tom Andrews, will have the Auditorium again, but a place to stage the shows on the National Club, operated by the Mulkern-Steinel Organization, has not been picked.

Earl Yingling, a former left hand hurler with Brooklyn, will have a chance in the American League. The Senators have taken him from Minneapolis. He is quite a hitter as well as a heady, dependable pitcher.

BRAVES TAKE LEAGUE LEAD

Go Into First Place as Brooklyn Loses to Philadelphia.

(By United Press.)

Boston, Mass., Sept. 4.—The Boston Braves lead the National League this afternoon—by an eye lash—as a result of their victory over the Giants in the morning game while Brooklyn was going down to defeat before Philadelphia.

The Braves led with a percentage of .601 against 600 for the Dodgers. It is the first time the Dodgers have been put out of first place since early in the season. Hank Gowdy doubled scoring Smith, giving the Braves a one score margin which won.

TO LAY CORNER STONE.

It was announced this afternoon that the corner stone of the new Baptist church will be laid one week from Sunday, September 17. All of the churches of the city will be asked to participate and appropriate exercises are being arranged.

Claim Everything

"Claim everything," seems to be the motto of the Wilson administration. In a speech some time ago, President Wilson asserted with the utmost positiveness that the Federal Reserve Act "saved the country from a ruinous panic when the stress of war came on." The facts are that war was declared August 1, 1914 and the imminence of the conflict was known to the world only three or four days earlier. On July 31, was extreme excitement Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo issued a statement in which he called attention to the fact that the Aldrich-Vreeland Act was still in force and that under its provisions there was then in the Treasury half a billion dollars which the banks could get upon application. In the next three months he issued more than $369,000,000 of emergency currency. In December, 1914, in his annual report, Secretary McAdoo expressly stated that at the time of the outbreak of the war, the Federal Reserve Act had not taken effect, and, in fact, the Federal Reserve banks did not open for business until the middle of October, 1914.

All these facts are within the knowledge of President Wilson, yet he makes the plain and unequivocal assertion that the Federal Reserve Act saved us from a panic when the war broke out. He is unwilling to give due credit to an act passed by a Republican administration. He is willing, for the sake of partisan advantage to misrepresent the facts

The Woman's Medicine Has Proved Its Worth.

When Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies were first introduced, their curative powers were doubted and had to be proved. But the proof came, and gradually the use of them spread over the whole country. Now that hundreds of thousands of women have experienced the most beneficial effects from the use of these medicines, their value has become generally recognized, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard medicine for women.

The following letter is only one of the thousands on file in the Pinkham office, at Lynn, Mass., proving that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an article of great merit as shown by the results it produces.

Anamosa, Iowa.—"When I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I suffered with a displacement, and my system was in a general rundown condition. I would have the headache for a week and my back would ache so bad when I would bend down I could hardly straighten up. My sister was sick in bed for two months and doctored, but did not get any relief. She saw an advertisement of your medcine and tried it and got better. She told me what it had done for her, and when I had taken only two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound my head began to feel better. I continued its use and now I don't have any of those troubles."—Mrs. L. J. HANNAN, R.F.D. 1, Anamosa, Iowa.

Read this:

Harrison Levi, 931 N. Sexton St., Rushville, says: "I used to have to get up six or seven times, each night on the account of the too frequent passages of the kidney secretions. Often they were scanty and accompanied by pain. I also had severe backaches. Nothing ever did me any good until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Johnson's Drug Store. It didn't take them long to fix me up. The pain left and my kidneys became regular in action." (Statement given July 27, 1912).

On August 25, 1915, Mr. Levi said: "I am glad to confirm my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills, for they have given me a permanent cure."

as shown by the records and as known to the business and banking world. He may win the votes of a few of the credulous, but he will forfeit the respect and confidence of the substantial men and women of the country who believe that the ordinary rules of honesty should be observed by men whose official position makes them an example for the youth of the land to follow.

Those Democrats who bitterly resented the Republican charge that the President advocated a tariff commission purely as a matter of political expediency have become deeply concerned over their realization that they have provided salaries of only $7,500 a year for the six members of the Land Commission, whereas the members of the Farm Loan Board will receive $10,000 a year. This is of course simply a further proof that the Democrats generally have little faith in a Tariff Commission and that in creating it they were merely obeying the President and not enacting what they regarded as legislation of importance. An effort has been made to put responsibility for the lower salary of the tariff commission to be appointed by a Democratic president—but investigation proves that the man who was really responsible for $7,500 salaries is Rep. Cullop, of Indiana, a tariff-for-revenue-only Democrat. As compared with the $12,000 a year of the Federal Reserve Board and the $10,000 a year of the Farm Loan Board, the $7,500 of the Tariff Commission looks small.

Many soldiers serving on the border are losing their right to vote at the primaries and at the general election as a reward (?) for their patriotism and fidelity in time of national stress. These National Guardsmen, over a hundred thousand of them, were sent to the border to protect American citizens and American property from the raids of the bloodthirsty brigands across the Rio Grande. Each of them left positions in civil life which paid them many times the amount of their government pay. The sacrifices they have made are not small. And yet there is no governmental law which gives them the right to vote at their company stations for the civil officers who are to rule them when they return to their homes. The soldiers from a few states enjoy this privilege through state made laws, but the many do not. It is a shame, a disgrace, a travesty upon the vaunted justice of this country, and should be remedied without delay. The man who is willing to shed his blood for his country should not be deprived of his right to vote because of that willingness.

A man with a single idea is a crank, while one with no idea at all is often successful.

Little Roumania is wallowing around in the blood just like a small boy in a mud puddle.

And now painted stockings are becoming fashionable for bathing beach wear. Where's the beach?

Soon, no doubt, there will be quite enough war to go round.

A lie is a lie, and that's no lie.

A newspaper says that when a man has $1,000,000 he has to be careful how he spends it or his brain may be investigated.

Possibly that doctor who described love as a disease is ambitious to perform the impossible by living on love.

If there are any nations that are not fighting there is still room for another splash or two.

VIVID PAGEANT STAGED AT NIGHT

Centennial Spectacle at State Fair on Big Scale.

Students of Hoosier history will find in the Indiana centennial pageant, which is to be the chief feature of the Indiana state fair the week of Sept. 4, a vivid portrayal of the chief episodes which marked the development of the Commonwealth, from the time the first French explorers came into the wilderness until the close of the Civil war. There were many historic incidents, both thrilling and pleasing, during this stretch of Indiana history and in writing the serenario for the spectacle J. Saunders Gordon, of St. Louis, brings them out forcefully. He spent several months informing himself of Indiana history, of the spirit of the times of which he writers, the outstanding features of the state's formation, the customs of the Indians, the French explorers, the British and pioneer soldiers, the daily life of the settlers who sought homes of peace, and with fidelity the spectacle follows the state's expansion down to the time when the present era of high civic development began.

Mr. Gordon not only wrote the senario of the spectacle, but he devised the rich scenic accessories which will embellish the production. He planned the forts, the log cabins, the Indian village, and the other Indiana scenery which will serve as the background of the big production. He also planned the elaborate display of fireworks which is to follow the spectacle each evening, giving a pronounced Hoosier centennial flavor to the huge set pieces and the aerial displays that are to be fired.

In addition to all these preparations, Mr. Gordon has directed the formation of the groups of people who will give life to the night pageant and has directed the rehearsals of the hundreds of men and women who will present the production.

The spectacle will be given on a stage about 500 feet long, with all the scenic vesture necessary to make it a great and brilliant production. Some of Indiana's most historical men will have speaking parts in the pageant, among them Governor William Henry Harrison; Tecumseh, the most famous of Indiana's red warriers; Col. Shuler, who gave chase to Morgan, the Civil war raider; and a number of others.

White and Indian soldiers on foot and on horseback, fighting the battles of Vincennes and Tippecanoe; pioneer men and women venturing into the virgin Hoosier wilderness with their ox teams to set up their log cabins and clear the ground for their farms; the building of the first statehouse at Corydon and adopting the state's constitution under the historic elm tree at that place, are only a few of the intense incidents which are woven into the dramatic action which abounds throughout the spectacle.

There is intense interest over the state this year in all affairs relating to Indiana's centennial. Many very elaborate spectacles have been given, while that at the Indiana state fair will not only measure up to them in magnitude and splendor, but it will have additional picturesque richness, since it is the only great pageant of the year to be staged after night with brilliant illuminating effects.

A Real Humorist

(Columbus Republican)

One of the questions at the last examination given for teachers here was to name an Indiana humorist and give an example of his work. If any of the teachers had named Tom Taggart as an Indiana humorist and had given his speech on economy as a sample of humor, The Republican believes it would have been up to Superintendent Sharp to have given the applicant a full grade for the answer. Because Senator Taggart has qualified for the humorist class without a doubt. He stirred the state by his attack on the Democratic Congress and its wasteful methods. He warmed the cockles of many a heart by his denunciation of pork barrel legislation. But no sooner had he relieved his system of this speech than he began to frank out by the hundreds of thousands, a piece of Democratic campaign literature. It was a great crime, he thought, to send out garden seeds, but it was perfectly proper to flood the state, under his personal frank, with a list of ten questions some fellow humorists had sent to Charles E. Hughes.

Examine Your TEETH Tonight
—after you clean them.
You will find, in all probability, an accumulation of tartar on the enamel and bits of food deposit hiding between the crevices. YOUR DENTIFRICE does not FULLY CLEAN! Loss of teeth is caused usually by one of two conditions—Pyorrhea or decay, both of which develop, as a rule, only in the mouth where germ-laden tartar is present.
SENRECO, the recently discovered formula of a dental specialist, is two-fold in its action. First, it REALLY CLEANS, embodying specially prepared, soluble granules unusually effective in cleaning away food deposits. Second, it is particularly destructive to the germ of Pyorrhea. Yet it is perfectly safe, containing neither injurious chemicals nor hard grit.
Avoid Pyorrhea and decay. Get Senreco from your dealer today. In large tubes, 25c. Send 4c to Senreco, 304 Walnut Street, Cincinnati, Ohio, for liberal-sized trial package.

Does It Pay?

DOES it pay to advertise in dull seasons? No use answering a question with a theory when facts are at hand—facts like these:

August used to be the dullest month of all the year in the furniture business—now it is the very busiest because advertising turned dullness into activity.

January was formerly a time when men's clothing stores did no business. Now, by advertising, they make record sales.

Right down the list instances can be cited where merchants and manufacturers have turned supposedly dull periods into busy ones.

And they did it by advertising—by newspaper advertising in most instances.

Sitting around cussing the weather won't ring the the cash register, but advertising will. Newspaper advertising coupled with good merchandizing will drive any dull month from the calendar. Perhaps not at once, but little by little.

Now is the time to increase business for the immediate present and get a flying start for the Fall Now is the time to make your advertising plans and begin an aggressive bid for business.

STATE FAIR HAS GOOD OPENING

Many Branches of Industry Represented and Special Features Add to Attractions

STAGE PAGEANT AT NIGHT

A Total of $64,135 Offered in Premiums of Which Horses Will Get $27,000.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 4.—With every branch of Indiana industry represented, the Indiana state fair opened here today.

Special features and the annual "staples" such as elaborate exhibits, fine races and the like, caused the fair management to predict that with good weather the week should be most successful.

This being centennial year, the state fair will do its part. A night spectacle will be staged which has taken six weeks to prepare, and in which several hundred men, women and children will take part. It will picture the coming of the first white men into the Indiana wilderness, the first settlements, the battles of Vincennes and Tippecanoe, the organizations of the state, government and so on up to modern times.

Premiums offered this year total $64,135. The largest amount for one department is for horses, which will draw $35,124. Of this, $27,000 is in purses for races.

There will be no night horse show, the pageant taking its place, but day shows will give the equine fancier his opportunity.

Total premiums for the cattle department are $11,289. Sheep will draw $3,479 in premiums and poultry $2,186.

Devotes of the rod will have their opportunity for the first time to view an extensive exhibit of Indiana fish at the state fair.

Woman suffrage advocates invaded the state fair this year, placing a tent in a prominent place, placarded as a rest tent for women. Workers for the cause were stationed today in a campaign for votes.

Censor Is Not the Fool That One Would Naturally Take Him To Be

By HAL O'FLAHERTY

London Aug. 20 (By Mail)—"The censor is not the damm fool you take him to be."

The above line was penned by a British censor upon a letter from an officer at the front to his wife, in which an ingenious code was discovered. It meant to disclose to the anxious wife just where her husband was fighting, but it was spoiled by the censor and an order was issued by the war office prohibiting such practices.

Before the officer, who wrote the code letter, left for the front, he secured two maps showing the entire British fighting line. The maps were identical. One he left with his wife and the other he took with him.

Thereafter, each time he wrote a letter, he placed the stationery on his map, stuck a pin through it directly over Paris, another directly over Brussels, and a third at the point where he was stationed. Upon receiving the letter, his wife would superimpose it on her map, adjusting the extreme pinholes over Paris and Brussels, and her husbands whereabouts would be indicated by the middle hole.

This is but one of a score of codes and secret signals discovered by the censors recently. England does not censure the relatives of men at the front for wanting to know the locality in which they are fighting and perhaps dying, but such disclosures become a menace. No one knows how extensive Germany's espionage system may be, and England is taking no chances.

Another code system used by a certain officer was more elaborate than the one pointed out by the censor, with his "damm fool" notation. It was arranged by the officer with his wife just before he sailed for France, and consisted of two charts of the battle line, one of which he retained while the wife kept the other. Each map was laid out in blocks an inch square; each square could be identified by combinations of letters indicating each line of squares from left to right Down the left hand side was another row of letters.

In writing home, the officer would say; "Give my regards to L. A. Smith." Being a fictitious name, the wife would know it as a key to her secret code. Putting her finger on the "A" line of the squares on her chart, she would follow along under the "L" squares, in which was her husband's position at the front.

It is improbable that any information contained in these code letters has ever reached the Germans, but there is a possibility of such a mischance and England is losing no opportunity to defeat a spy system that has made Englishmen gasp.

CLASS REUNION

The visit of Mrs. Mayme Saniter of New York was the cause of the reunion of the class of 1900 of the New Salem high school held at the Scanlan House last evening. It was an event filled with pleasant memories for the members of the class, this being the first reunion since their graduation. Scarlet and green was the color scheme brought out in the decorations and appointments with roses and geraniums. The dinner was served in buffet style and was followed by toasts given by the members of the class, when J. F. McKee was toastmaster, spicing his talk with clever remarks. There were thirty-two guests including the members of the class and their families. They were Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Williams and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McKee and family, Mr. and Mrs. George King and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. King and family, Mr. and Mrs. Curt Geise and family, Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Wamsley and daughter, Kathryn, and Mrs. Saniter and daughter.

The original and clever toast given by the guest of honor follows:

To The Class of 1900

The class of 1900, of New Salem High,
Graduated with honors up to the sky.
How we passed is a mystery to each one here.
For we did nothing but play, the entire year.
The trumpeter of the class was Willard King.
When he blew his nose, he made the old room ring.
Many neighbors around would come to their doors
And say "Mr. Paxton, what was that uproar."
A class wedding in thought there would be
Between Chester Williams and Nellie McKee.
But at the end of the year, this prim little girl.
Was going around in search of a pearl.
Chester Williams was the saint of the class.
He studied by the hour and always did pass.
And when school was over, and books overthrown.
It wasn't long until he was hit by a stone.
Mamie Kemp last but not least.
Was as dignified as a Catholic priest.
Until she heard Carl shake his inkwell,
Then she had an everlasting giggling spell.
Sixteen years have passed since we last met.
For all these good times we have no regret.
And to Nelle and her Pearl, we extend our thanks
For getting together this bunch of old cranks.

OPPOSED TO NEW SPORT

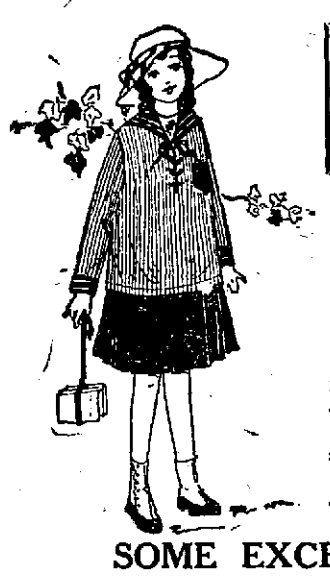

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 4.—A law forcing hotels to place in every lobby, a complete and specific schedule of prices of rooms, is the air of a campaign started today by members of the United Commercial Travelers. Douglass Barnes, leader of the campaign, says: "the charging of higher prices to arrivals late at night is nothing less than the old road agents specialty reduced to the fine art of an indoor sport."

TO CHECK WASTE DOMINATE NOTE

Will be Theme of Conference on Marketing of Farm Products to be Held in Chicago.

IT WILL BE AN OPEN FORUM

Farmers Organizations Everywhere Are Invited to Send Men and Tell Their Troubles.

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Sept. 4.—How to check the billion dollar waste in the marketing of farm products will be the dominant theme of the fourth national conference on marketing and farm credits, called today to meet in Chicago December 4 and 5.

Farmers of all states are expected to unite in a discussion of ways and means to remedy a condition termed "wasteful and iniquitous in the extreme" by the committee in its meeting notice.

Surveys will be made prior to the winter gathering that will show the movement of crops, such as livestock, grain, cotton and hay. The whole milk problem and its relation to city distribution will be worked out.

Practical plans will be drawn for eliminating waste, improving farm products and increasing the consumption of certain farm crops.

Half of the conference work will be devoted to rural credits and the federal farm loan act will come in for its share of criticism.

"The delegates will analyze the scope and limitations of the act," said Secretary Charles W. Holman of Madison, Wis., today. "And when they are through the American farmer will know what to expect under its terms. Contrary to the general belief, this act does not solve the rural credit problem. It is a beginning, but a crude one. It may prove to be almost inoperative in a number of states where federal jurisdiction will clash with existing homestead laws."

"Nor does the act touch even remotely the question of personal credit and it is a long way from striking at the great problem of turning tenants and landless men into home owning farmers.

"How to adjust state laws to harmonize with the act will be shown by speakers at the conference. Aid for the landless man and the immigrant will be discussed. We expect delegates from every state in the Union and from Canada.

"A feature of the winter sessions will be hearings to bring out needed information. The results of careful investigation and long experience will be presented on practical phases of the questions.

"Farmers organizations will be invited to send men to tell their troubles.

"The conference is an open forum now in its fourth year. It is non-partisan. Its deliberations are followed up from year to year by committees and special bodies working for the delegates." The general committeemen signing the call are:

Frank L. McVey, chairman, Grand Forks, N. D., president of the University of North Dakota; Frank P. Holland of Dallas, publisher of Farm & Ranch; Gifford Pinchot, Milford Pa.; Governor Arthur Capper of Kansas, president of the Capper farm papers; Charles S. Barrett, Union City, Pa., president of the National Farmers union; Lou D. Sweet, Denver; Charles McCarty of Madison, Wis.; chief of the Wisconsin Legislative Reference library; James C. Caldwell, Lakefield, Minn.; H. J. Hughes of Minneapolis, editor of Farm, Stock & Home; Charles Poe of Raleigh, N. C., president Progressive Farmer papers.

WATCH SALOONS

(By United Press.)

Evansville, Ind., Sept. 4.—Parties of ministers and church workers today formed small investigation committees and went on tours through the city inspecting the saloons to see that there were no violations of the law. A committee of three ministers recently asked Mayor Bosse to close the saloons for Labor Day and he referred them to the president of the Central Labor Union, which is staging a big picnic here today. Efforts are being made to obtain evidence for affidavits in order that arrests may be made.

SUFFS WILL GET LINE ON DIXIE

Expect to Get "Inside Information" On Conditions in South At Called Convention

IS CONSIDERED IMPORTANT

Will Likely Determine Policy to be Followed During The Coming Campaign

(By United Press.)

Atlantic City, Sept. 4.—Several hundred of Dixie's fairest daughters will take an active part in the emergency—called convention of the National American Woman Suffrage Association here Sept. 6th.

They will bring with them some "inside information" on what the Southern politicians think of suffrage, and on their report to the convention will depend whatever decision is made for future suffrage activity below the Mason-Dixon line.

So important is the South regarded by the suffrage leaders that one entire evening session of the convention has been set aside for a presentation of the Dixie suffragists' reports. The night of September seventh will be officially known as "Dixie Night", and it promises to furnish one of the big surprises of the convention. On that night the delegates from all parts of the country will get some first hand information from Southern women on how the South stands on suffrage. According to Mrs. Carrie Chapan Catt President of the National Association, the information will not be displeasing.

Details of the information which is to be presented to the convention by the Southern leaders are being jealously guarded, but it is admitted that there are surprises in store for those who have been laboring under the delusion that the Southern States as whole, are opposed to granting the ballot to women.

Among the representative women who will speak Dixie Night and tell of the strides woman suffrage is making in the south are:

Mrs. B. J. Cunningham, president of the Texas Woman Suffrage Association, Mrs. Edward McGehee president of the Mississippi Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs Lila Meade Valentine, president of the Virginia Equal Suffrage League Other Southern Leaders on the program include Mrs. Eugene Rielley vice president, General Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Guildford Dudley, president Tenessee Equal Suffrage Association, Inc.; Mrs. T T. Cotnam, vice president Arkansas Woman Suffrage Association, and Mrs. Thomas Jefferson Smith, president Kentucky Equal Rights Association.

President Wilson and Mr. Hughes have been invited to address the convention, considered the most important ever called in the suffrage history of the country. Its specific purpose is to determine the political policy which the National American Woman Suffrage Association—a strictly non-partisan body—will follow during the coming Fall campaign.

MINORS OFFER FEW PLAYERS

Pickings Rather Slim For The Scouts Of Major League Clubs— Few Exceptions

CUBS GRAB INDIAN PLAYERS

Best Talent is Found in American Association And Pacific Coast Leagues

BY HAMILTON
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, Sept. 4.—With races in the big leagues fast drawing to a close managers are looking toward prospects for next year, with the class of new playing talent picked up in the minors holding an important place.

Every year word comes to the east of phenomenal ball players in the minors. Usually these are taken up, and sometimes they make good. More often than not, however, they are sent back. This year, perhaps more than any recent season, there is a dearth of good playing talent in the minors.

Purchases, up to the present have been very few and only players of extraordinary ability have been picked off by the scouts. Some of these already have reported, while others are being held for delivery at the opening of the training season next year.

The big minors, the American association, the International league and the Pacific Coast league, will supply the greatest amount of real material, as usual. In the lower leagues the percentage of ball players who look promising is remarkably low.

In the American association, there are a number of ball players who look like real finds. Among these is pitcher Nick Carter, purchased from Indianapolis by the Cubs. Carter is a big right hander who was held by the Cleveland Americans at the beginning of the present season and turned over to Indianapolis with hardly a trail. He was the best pitcher in the association this year.

Outfielder Joe Kelly is another Indianapolis player taken by the Cubs and Pitcher Victor Aldridge and Dex Dawson of the Indians will report next spring.

Kansas City has sent Chuck Wortman to the Cubs. Jimmy Middleton, former hurler for Louisville, has been sent to the Giants, and Infielder Joe Leonard of the Columbus club has reported to Cleveland.

Minneapolis and Washington are carrying on their usual interchange, with a trial for Earl Yinling and Mike Menoske being assured. Mike Regan, star hurler for Kansas City, is certain to make a trip to the majors, and Pitcher Pierce of Toledo may get another chance.

In the Coast league there is a wealth of good material. Portland offers Wilie and Southworth, outfielders, Louis Guisto, first baseman, and Allen Sothron, pitcher. Guisto has been sold to Cleveland. Oakland has Martin, a pitcher. San Francisco expects to dispose of Ping Bodie, outfielder, and Johnny Couch, pitcher. Salt Lake has First Baseman Bunny Brief and Pitcher Fittery. Los Angeles offers Catcher Bassler, Pitcher Horstmann and Outfielder Wolter.

Vernon has three stars in Infielders McGaffigan, Risberg and Bates. Of the trio McGaffigan is the least likely to go up. He is an excellent fielder, but his disposition on the diamond handicaps him greatly.

The International league is mainly populated with players from the majors under optional agreement. A large number of these, including Urban Shocker, sensational Toronto hurler, have been recalled. In fact Bill Donovan almost wrecked several clubs by recalling many of his youngsters when the Yankees were so badly crippled. Howard Ehmke is certain to be given a thorough trial, as is Pitcher McTigue. Ehmke will go to Detroit.

Paddy Siglin and Jimmie Smith, two Pirate farmhands, remarkable fielders but poor stickers, will have another chance.

Would-be baseball moguls can get all the baseball they want by a trip into the Western league. There are eight clubs in the circuit and seven of them are on the market for most any old price.

TO ELEVATE THE LEGATION

Spain Will Have an Embassy in Argentina Hereafter.

(By United Press.)

Buenos Aires September 4.—To avoid international jealousy, the Spanish legation in Argentina is to be elevated to the rank of an embassy, such as the United States has, it was learned here today.

King Alfonso's ministry has decided on the step and the approval of the cortes is considered certain. When the Argentina legation at Washington was made an embassy and the Washington legatees here was similarly elevated, there was much objection here and in Madrid on the ground that Spain, as Argentina's parent land, should come first.
